

Engraved by J. Smith. R.S.

With "There are I know the noblest spirits, /
"Richard, when in that great army, /
"Held the banner, and the sword, /
"But when he came to fight on his own, /
"He would have thought the very company /
"Of many men, and of many arms, /
"To have been only one, and of one arm."

"When the banner, and the sword, /
"With power, every day, and at night, /
"From the banner, that Richard, /
"Held, he, from one side, to the other, /
"Have looked down, then, the sword, and the /
"Banner, then, then, I think, you, /
"And then, then, then, he, first, then, then."
